DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of Appeal Brief filed on 10/11/2005, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. New grounds of rejection are set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

2. Applicant's amendments to claims 1 – 32 are acknowledged. Currently, claims 1 – 7, 9 – 15, 17 – 23, 25 – 29, and 31 - 32 are pending.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1 – 7, 9 – 15, 17 – 23, 25 – 29, and 31 – 32 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 – 2, 4 – 13, 15 – 24, 26 – 26, 38 – 45 of copending Application 09/800,607; claims 1, 4 – 15, 17 – 25, 28 – 39, 41 – 49, 52 – 63, 65 – 73, 76 – 87, 89 – 96 of copending Application No. 09/801,138; claims 1 – 49 of copending Application No. 09/801,072; claims 1 – 4, 6 – 15, 18 – 27, 30 – 39, 42 – 51 of copending Application No. 09/801,076; claims 1 – 37 of copending Application No. 09/800,592; claims 1, 3 – 12, 14 – 23, 25 – 34, 36 – 42 of copending Application No. 09/799,032; Claims 1, 4 – 11, 14 – 21, 24 – 31, and 34 – 38 of copending Application No. 09/801,140.

Art Unit: 2161

Most limitations in instant application can be found on copending ' 056, '592, '032, '072, '138, '076, '140. For instance:

A query language string limitation is found in the instant applicant but not in other applications. However, other limitations such as "formatting a searchable database", "accessing a node", " or utilizing a search module" can be found in other applications. The query language string is a command string and is not distinct from other command entered by the user. Therefore, the Examiner considers the query language string is equivalent with other command that is entered by the user.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been prima facie obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to broaden the invention because this provides a wider application of the invention with no additional cost in development.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1, 9, 17, 25, 31 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2161

When regarding in light of Fig. 1, the claim language “utilizing a search module” in limitation (b) should be “utilizing a research module” since the invention, especially in Fig. 1, describes five modules; namely Keyword search module, Parametric search module, Dichotomous key module, Hierarchical tree module. It is not clear which search module that is being referred by in claim 1. Therefore, renders the claim vague and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1 – 7, 9 – 15, 17 – 23, 25 – 29, and 31 - 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wesinger Jr. et al (U.S. 5,778,367) in view of Anthony Stuart (U.S. 5,613,110).

◆ As per claims 1, 9, 17, 25, 31 – 32,

Wesinger teaches a method of accessing information in a searchable database comprising:

- “The searchable database is formatted in a directory tree structure” See col. 10, lines 61 – 62 of Wesinger.
- “The directory tree structure includes nodes ... branches” See col. 10, lines 61 - 65. Each category corresponds to a node. All nodes are linked together.

- “Categorizing each item of data by a navigation path through the directory tree structure and by one or more parameters” see col. 4, lines 39 – 50, col. 6, lines 44 - 50 of Wesinger.
- “ Each parameter is set with a corresponding value associated with the data item thereby forming a set parameter” see col. 10, lines 65 – col. 11, lines 4 of Wesinger.
- “ An external application different than the research system accessing one or more nodes... and obtaining data from the one or more node by utilizing an application programming interface associated with the research system” See Fig. 1A, element 103. An “application programming interface” corresponding to the server 105.
- Users access the directory by a query. The query includes keywords that defined the navigation path. Users access the directory by a query (see col. 10, lines 65 – col. 11, lines 4 of Wesinger. A user can specify the resource by selecting a category and set up one or more set parameters); therefore the navigation path is defined by a query language string.
- “Utilizing a search module including keyword search, hierarchical search, parametric search, and dichotomous key search, wherein accessing each of the nodes within the directory tree structure each of the search methodologies including keyword search, hierarchical search, parametric search, and dichotomous key search, are available” See Fig. 2H. In fig. 2H, Wesinger also allows the users multiple search methods, including:
  - Keyword search
  - Hierarchical search corresponds to categories search.
  - Parametric search corresponds to Example search.

Art Unit: 2161

Wesinger clearly discloses a query language string which is a command string written according to a query language (See col. 4, lines 8 – 11 of Wesinger).

The Wesinger reference fails to disclose the dichotomous key search. However, this method search is a well known in the art. Stuart provides an example of it.

Stuart teaches that a dichotomous key search is used to search for data in the database (See Abstract).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of Stuart into the invention of Wesinger because Wesinger suggested that multiple search method are available for user and the combination would reduce the memory access when using binary search, and providing user more search methodologies.

◆ As per claims 2, 10, 18, 26, the combination of Wesinger and Stuart disclose:

- “The applications programming interface accesses the one or more nodes... using a query string defining a navigation path” Wesinger clearly discloses a query language string which is a command string written according to a query language (See col. 4, lines 8 – 11 of Wesinger).

◆ As per claims 3, 11, 19, 27, the combination of Wesinger and Stuart disclose:

- “Links to other nodes within the directory tree structure, links to web sites external to the electronic system” See col. 4, lines 39 – 50, col. 6, lines 44 - 50 of Wesinger.

◆ As per claims 4, 12, 20, 28, the combination of Wesinger and Stuart disclose:

- “The searchable database is distributed into more than one physical location” See Fig. 1A, wherein more than one databases are presented.

◆ As per claims 5 - 7, 13 – 15, 21 – 23, 29, the combination of Wesinger and Stuart disclose:

Art Unit: 2161

- "Accessing one or more nodes is performed by a server" See Fig. 2K, col. 5, lines 53 – 55 of Wesinger.
- "Establishing an Internet connection with the server" See Fig. 1A- 1B of Wesinger.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 – 7, 9 – 15, 17 – 23, 25 – 29, and 31 – 32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
